

GRAVE PROBLEM OF THE PRIMARY

Supreme Court Has Overruled Attorney-Gen- eral's Decision That Votes For Names Not Printed On Ballot Cannot Be Counted.

CANVASSING BOARD IS ADJOURNED

And No Law Authorizes It To Re-Convene And Complete Its Work With Respect To Writ- ten-In Nominees.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—Wisconsin's new primary-election system, advocated by R. M. La Follette for a decade and finally, through his efforts, placed upon the statute books, is causing a barrel of trouble and confusion because of legislative oversights and imperfections of the law. Upon the whole the principle of the new system is believed by many to be good, but the details have been so inadequately set out in the law that many difficulties arise.

Secretary in a Quandary.
The newest problem confronts the secretary of state. Dozens of legally nominated candidates are clamoring to him to place their names on the official ballot for the coming election, but he is powerless to do so. The attorney general held that votes for candidates whose names were not printed on the primary ballot should not be counted unless the party had shown its determination to make a nomination for that office. The supreme court reversed this holding and declared that all votes in the primary, whether for candidates whose names were printed on the ballot or written in by the voter should be counted.

Board Cannot Re-convene.
In the meantime, however, the state canvassing board had met, performed its task according to the opinion of the attorney general, and adjourned, and there is no law authorizing it to re-convene and complete its work in accordance with the decision of the supreme court with respect to written-in nominees. Without the certification of the canvassing board, the

SMUGGLING CASES AGAINST CHINESE

Nineteen Pig-tailed Immigrants Are Charged With Coming Into Country Unlawfully.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Providence, R. I., Oct. 26.—The Frolic Chinese smuggling cases were before the United States court here today. The defendants are the nineteen Chinese prisoners who were captured after they had been landed here three weeks ago by the Frolic, which was endeavoring to smuggle them into the United States from Newfoundland. There were said to be forty-two Chinamen aboard the Frolic and all except nineteen made good their escape. The Chinese probably will be kept here until after the cases of the vessel's officers are disposed of. When the cases were called today the court was filled with Chinese, lawyers and other apparently deeply interested in the proceedings.

HIGH CLASS BEETS AT IRON RIVER

Results at University Experiment Substation Solve the Problem of North Wisconsin Soil.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—The successful growing of sugar beets of an unusually fine quality on the University of Wisconsin agricultural experiment substation farm at Iron River, Wis., seems to be the solution of the problem of finding a profitable crop suitable to the climate and soil of northern Wisconsin lands formerly covered with timber. The analysis of beets grown on the Iron River experiment farm shows a higher percentage of both sugar content and purity than beets have yielded in any other portion of the state. The sugar content of these northern Wisconsin beets was 16.9 per cent, as compared with 14.7 per cent, the average for Wisconsin. The purity percentage was also exceedingly high in the Iron River beets, being 92.3 against 83.7 per cent, the average of the beets produced in all parts of the state. Both the sugar content and the purity percentage were higher for these beets in northern Wisconsin than for those grown under the most favorable conditions at the Madison experiment station farm. The results indicate that, with proper agricultural methods, sugar beets can be made to yield excellent returns from land which has been idle and unprofitable since the timber on it was cut. On the Iron River farm the beets were planted thirty inches apart, which is a much wider distance than on the Madison farm, and the yield was nine tons per acre. If closely planted they probably would have equalled or even exceeded the sixteen or eighteen tons per acre yield on the Madison farm. Next year the beets will be grown with a view to getting large tonnage. The aim this year was merely to see if beets could be raised at all in that climate, and no special scientific methods were used. One of the interesting features of the experiment as it will be continued next season is the tests to be made of various fertilizers and of muck and peat in enriching the red sand soil which is typical of the Iron River district. A sparing use of the common black muck and peat found in swamp places it is thought will be found of much benefit to the crops, as it largely increases the capacity of the ground for retaining the moisture.

LILLIAN STEVENS TO THE W.C.T.U.

President Of The Great Temperance Organiza- tion Delivers Annual Address At Thirty-Third Convention In Hartford, Conn.

WOMAN IS STILL A HOME-KEEPER

But Her Conception Of The Sphere Of Home Has Broad- ened--Recounts Victories Of Year's War Against Alcohol.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Hartford, Conn., Oct. 26.—The thirty-third annual convention of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union began here today in Parsons' theatre. Sessions will be held day and night until the middle of the coming week.

The union numbers more than 300,000 members, and includes in its ranks members of every Christian denomination. More than five hundred delegates, from every state and territory in the Union, are in attendance at the convention. In addition many of the foreign delegates who took part in the world's convention in Boston last week are here. Presidents of respective women's clubs have been invited to make addresses at the convention, and many well known clergymen and educators will join the speakers. Representatives from numerous charitable and social improvement societies will also address the meeting.

The chief feature of today's program was the annual address of Mrs. Lillian M. Stevens of Maine, president of the organization. Mrs. Stevens has failed to attend only one convention in thirty-three years, and at that time she was kept at home by illness. Mrs. Stevens in her address today spoke in part as follows: "We warmly welcome to this thirty-third convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union our white ribbon comrades from other lands and other climes. We know you will be an inspiring presence to our convention and we humbly trust that in some degree, in some way, the convention may be helpful to you. Our Star-Spangled Banner is dearer to us today because mingled with its folds are the flags of other countries—countries closely bound to ours in the comradeship of sacred work."

"The Women's Christian Temperance Union is organized in ten thousand localities in our nation, and in three hundred thousand homes. The white ribbon is worn over hearts loyal and true.

Great Progress Recorded.
"Probably no member of this convention is fully satisfied with the results of the year's work for the advancement of moral measures, and yet no former year has marked greater progress. The people more widely than ever before know what alcohol is. We can hardly enumerate the many ways in which the knowledge has been acquired. Scientific research, religious conviction and business interests are bringing forth reasons for total abstinence which compel attention and action. The reiteration that alcohol is a poison and not a food, has forced the study of the liquor question upon many who heretofore have been unmindful, if not altogether unbelieving, and the careful unprejudiced student of the question cannot fail to be in sympathy with the W. C. T. U. in its manifold efforts to have the people understand what alcohol is and does.

Saloon Growing in Disfavor.
"The liquor trade is a mighty monopoly compared with which every other monopoly falls into insignificance, but the bulwarks of the trade are constantly being weakened. A wide-spread call for a new sort of morality in public officials has been heard in many states; and in the nation at large the idea has been emphasized that large corporations and men of greatest wealth are not exempt from the requirements of the people's law in the people's courts. The liquor trade is not only sustained by avarice but by an appetite which unconsciously sways or controls the action of the man who is counted among those never known to drink to excess. Notwithstanding all this, the saloon more than ever before is regarded with disfavor by respectable people.

"Sooner or later every well-meaning person who gives any attention whatever to the liquor problem, if he is capable of sane reasoning, will come to see the fallacy and the wickedness of any form of license as applied to the sale of liquor for beverage purposes.

Abolition of Canteen.
"A candid review and fair comparison of conditions before and after the abolition of the liquor canteen make a good showing as a whole in favor of the present system. The oft-repeated statements that 'low dives and drinking places develop in the vicinity of military posts because of the abolishment of liquor selling in the canteen,' is disproved on authority of such officers as Colonel Ray of Kentucky and Major Nave of California and by the honest investigators of the real conditions.

Revenue—Denatured Alcohol.
"During the last year there has been unusual interest displayed concerning the internal revenue system and it is to be hoped that this interest will strengthen and deepen until the day of national prohibition, when in every state the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages is outlawed, and there can be no liquor revenue with which to enrich the coffers of Uncle Sam's treasury.

"General satisfaction seems to prevail over the passage by congress of the 'denatured alcohol bill.' It could hardly be otherwise, for most temperance people would be glad to have the revenue tax removed from all intoxicating liquors and to have such liquors denatured.

"The bill prohibiting the sale of liquor in all government buildings, parks, reservations and ships met with unexpected favor from some sources, and there is a reasonable hope that it will pass at the next session of congress.

Pure Food Bill.
"We have reason to be glad that the public demand for national legislation bearing upon the character and quality of foods sold in market has secured the passage of the pure food bill. Twenty-five states now have food inspection laws, and since the developments of the last year the people have been and are fully aroused to the importance of having adequate national legislation, and they welcome the new congressional law which certainly is needed to check fraudulent and unwholesome practices.

Mormonism.
"The attitude of the Women's Christian Temperance Union on the question of Mormonism is well understood, not only by all members and friends of the organization, but by the public at large. The Smoot investigation has furnished fruit to justify a movement that will make polygamy an offense against the United States; an offense that can be dealt with in the United States courts—hence it is plainly our duty to favor and to work for a national constitutional amendment.

"No one capable of reading and understanding need be ignorant of the dangerous character of cocaine and absinthe, and we should be alert to prevent their sale by those who, for financial gain, do not hesitate to dispense these poisons. These dealers are near relatives to the liquor sellers—in fact, they are often one and the same.

Victorious Year—The Future.
"If all the money wasted for strong drink were spent to provide good homes and home comforts the child labor problem would much more easily be solved. This is true to a great extent of the labor problem in its broader sense. There has been a year of remarkable W. C. T. U. activity. In every state there has been a victory along some line of march.

"Woman was never more truly a homekeeper than she is today, but her concept of the sphere of home has broadened immeasurably. There is a recognized link between the good home and civic righteousness, good schools, good churches and good business houses; and there are manifold indications that in the movement to secure woman's influence in government, and in the tangled business of the world, there is an accelerated progress."

Credit Men Organize.
Dallas, Texas, Oct. 26.—President O. G. Fessenden of New York and other officers of the National Credit Men's association were in Dallas today and attended a meeting held for the purpose of organizing a Texas credit men's association. The convention met at the Dallas Commercial club and effected a temporary organization. The visitors took in the Texas State Fair this afternoon.

Tennessee Y. M. C. A.
Jackson, Tenn., Oct. 26.—Scores of enthusiastic Y. M. C. A. workers are gathered here to take part in the annual convention of the West Tennessee district of the organization, which will be in session during the next two days. The First Methodist church has been prepared for the sessions, which already give promise of being of more than usual interest and importance. Speakers from Atlanta, Chicago, Memphis, Nashville and other points will be heard.

A Russian Squadron composed of the battleships Slava and Czarevitch, and the protected cruiser Bogatyr, will arrive in British waters today.

COUNTY RICHES ARE ANALYZED

IN ANNUAL REPORT OF COUNTY
CLERK HOWARD LEE.

2,675,015 BUSHELS OF CORN

Were Grown on Some of the 444,350
Acres of Farming Land—19,536
Acres Changed Hands
During Year.

The abstract of assessment for Rock county, consisting of six tables and compiled by County Clerk Howard Lee, has just come from the Gazette's printing department. It is a very interesting
booklet, gotten up
in attractive form
and containing
much careful
work on the part of the compiler as well as the printers. The annual report of the board of trustees,
and physics for
the county insane
asylum and home
also just been issued in neat and compact form and
is in readiness for the consideration
of the county board of supervisors at their coming November meeting.

Farming Lands and Lots
By the tabulations in the abstract
of assessment Rock county is shown to have 444,350 acres of farming land, worth—exclusive of buildings—$18, 197,171. The value of buildings and improvements on farm lands is placed at $4,206,475. The total value of land and improvements is $10,251,158.
Personal property is listed at $7,263, 710. The value of all property, real and personal, is $45,803,320. For purposes of comparison, the 1925 town assessment of $43,477,653 and the 1926 county assessment of $47,000,000 are given. The population for that year is shown to have been 53,750 and the personal property per capita $135.23.

Real Estate Sales for Year County Clerk Lee's report contains also the tabulations of the real estate transfers of the year. During the year ending Sept. 1, 1930 lots were sold in the city of Janesville and the total of the considerations named in the deeds was $273,661. In the city the deeds of 273 lots were transferred for a total consideration of $405,685.
One lot worth $125 changed hands at Alton. The total number of lots sold in Rock county was 538 and the total considerations named was $806,424.
The value of these lots according to the last tax roll was $496,667. The average price at which each lot in Janesville was sold, according to the considerations named in the deeds, was $1,642.53, somewhat higher than Beloit's average of $1,486. For the county the general average was $1, 371.46. The average assessment per lot was $84.67 and the total value of the town of the county 19,536 acres changed hands was $1,504,151; the average price per acre being $76.99. The value of this same land, as shown in the last tax roll is $918,450. The average assessment was $47.01 an acre and the ratio to the average selling price was .610.

1926 Acreage of Farm Products Rock county has 18,534 acres of apple orchards and the number of bearing trees is 23,696, as nearly as can be ascertained. Only 604 acres are devoted to small fruits. The total

Catarrah of the Stomach

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.
Catarrah of the stomach has long been considered the worst thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloated sensation after eating, accompanying sometimes with sour or watery eructations, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and hunger and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.
There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.
The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily,
thoroughly digested before it has time
to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harrison, the safe-est and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastae, Ascephe, Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.
Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ill.,
writes: "Catarrah is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed, and the poisonous discharge, when passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrah of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me, for three years for cattarrah of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, Catarrah of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach,
heartburn and bloating after meals.

acreage of other farm products is as follows: Tobacco, 6,834; Sugarbeets, 2,932; Corn, 23,917; Oats, 44,244;
Barley, 22,077; Rye, 5,229; Potatoes,
2,747; Root crops other than sugarbeets, 28; Speltz, 56; Cultivated grasses, 74,063; growing timber, 23, 736. In 1925 this acreage produced 56,327 tons of sugarbeets; 5,550,222 pounds of leaf tobacco; 72,221 tons of cultivated grasses; 9,349 bushels of wheat; 2,675,015 bushels of corn; 1,457,810 bushels of oats; $21,238 bushels of barley; 220,431 bushels of rye; 197,567 bushels of potatoes; 3,461,000
bu. of roots other than sugarbeets; 1,000
bu. of speltz (town of Bradford exclusively); 7,439 bu. of apples; 23,621
bu. of strawberries; 1,642 bu. of raspberries; 51 bu. of blackberries; 8,554
bu. of currants; 68 bu. of grapes (thirty of them grown in Plymouth); 343 bu.
of clover seed; 6,499 bu. of timothy seed.

Domestic Animals—Dairy Products
There are in the county 27,710 milch cows worth $68,610 and 21,338 other cattle appraised at $291,136. There are also 13,046 horses of all ages valued at $781,352; 14,046 sheep and lambs valued at $45,041; 25,423 swine;
four months old or over, appraised at $212,335; and 81 mules and asses worth $2,690. The county last year produced 2,120,324 pounds of butter valued at $523,532.50. The town of Union with 212,400 pounds to her credit leads in butter production, but Evanston with 212,000 pounds is a close second. The town of Fulton produced the most leaf tobacco—770, 800 pounds—about "Harmony" Union and Porter lead in oats; Janesville city is credited with the lead in sugarbeets with Fulton second; Bradford is first in corn and timothy production; the town of Clinton produced the most apples; La Prairie harvested the most barley; Union the most oats; Turtle
the most rye; Harmony the most potatoes; the town of Beloit by far the most strawberries—15,900 bushels.

Asylum Report
The report of the superintendent and trustees of the Rock county insane asylum and home for the poor shows:
That on the 1st day of July, 1929,
there were in the asylum 163 patients.
That the total number during the year was 169, a gain of 6, of which 91 were male and 78 were female. That the loss from all causes during the year was 23; that the number remaining in the asylum on the 1st day of July, 1930, was 146, of which 76 were male and 70 were female; a net loss of 17 during the year.
The number of inmates in the poorhouse on July 1st, 1930, was 62. Received from all sources during the year, 68; total, 130. Of this number 102 were male and 28 female. The total loss during the year was 53,
leaving 77 remaining July 1st, 1930,
of which 57 were male and 20 female.
The net cost per capita per week
at the asylum was $1.33; at the poorhouse, $1.25. If there is added to this the value of fire and garden products consumed and the cost of interest on the cost of the farm and buildings, not including house furnishings, the average cost per capita per week is $2.78.

SCRUBS SCORED ON HIGH SCHOOL TEAM

Eighteen to Five Football Game Played at Athletic Park Yesterday Afternoon.

In preparation for the game with Beloit high school at Athletic Park
Saturday afternoon the local high school football eleven is being put through some stiff practice. The rain of Wednesday made regular work impossible but an hour was spent in signal drilling in the gymnasium. Last evening the second team lined-up against the first eleven in a regular game at Athletic Park and scored one touchdown. The first team was held to three crossings of the goal line, making a score of 18 to 5. The contest Saturday afternoon commences at half past two o'clock.

BLAMES SUGAR MEN FOR REVOLUTION

Representative Landis of Indiana Claims That They and Tobacco
Interests Fomented Cuban Uprising.
(By William Wolff Smith.)
Washington, D. C.—Representative Charles Landis of Indiana is one of those who thinks the latest Cuban revolution may have been the work of the sugar and tobacco interests.
He thinks the revolution ought to have been squelched and then if Tatleynard that the emissaries of the sugar and tobacco trusts were of going to prison or leaving the island forever. "We all know," said Mr. Landis, "that the Cuban republic was getting along swimmingly until suddenly this rebellion, which bore all the earmarks of careful preparation, came to a head." He said he was inclined to think that the tobacco raisers and cane and fruit growers who claim American citizenship as their protection and who desire to get their products into the United States without paying tariff, rather than the professional insurance men, are at the bottom of the whole trouble.

LOCAL BOY IS MISTAKEN FOR TRAMP PRINTER AND PLACED UNDER ARREST

John Odell Had Queer Experience in Madison—Discharged After John Odell, a printer in Janesville
for many years, had an odd experience in Madison, whether he went a few weeks ago to locate. While standing on a corner he was approached by one he supposed to be a tramp printer and after a short conversation his new acquaintance, proving to be a detective, cross-examination, believing that he was a printer who was "mixed-up" in some trouble at the Madisonian office recently. When it did dawn on the marshal that Odell was the wrong man he discharged him with a grin
that spread from ear to ear.

cakes, try Mrs. Austin's.

TALK OF PURCHASE OF MADISON LINE IS NOT A MENACE TO LOCAL PLANS

H. H. Clough Says That There Will Be No Complications in the Arrangements to Enter the Capital
Over City Road.

Will the projected purchase by a syndicate of New York capitalists of the Madison Gas and Electric Co. and the Madison & Interurban Traction
Co.'s properties, involving a considerable amount of about $2,500,000, have any bearing on the Janesville & Madison interurban proposition? This question was put to H. H. Clough just before he departed for Chicago this morning and he said: "Mr. Montgomery told me that such a deal was pending
when he was down in Elgin, two weeks ago. No, there is no probability of any complications arising to hinder us from entering Madison over the local line. The sale of the property would do us no harm; it might do us some good. When it was suggested that some people had entertained conjectures that there might be some direct connection between the clearing away of the smoke from the local proposition and the announcement of the capital city deal, Mr. Clough admitted that there might be, but made no further comment.

The gas and electric company is owned by the McMillan syndicate of New York city, which also controls
the Milwaukee Gas Light company and several other lighting properties in this state. It is believed that the recent decision of the supreme court holding that the city of Madison could be empowered by the legislature to fix maximum rates for gas and electricity has had some effect in causing the McMillan syndicate to entertain negotiations for the sale.
The company was purchased a little over a year ago by F. W. Montgomery, a New York capitalist, who went there and took personal charge of the property. The road has been almost entirely rebuilt, the old rolling stock replaced by modern and up-to-date
cars and the service greatly improved.
The streetcar company has a capital stock of $500,000 and a bonded indebtedness of $530,000, a total of $1, 030,000. The capital stock and bonds of the gas and electric company aggregate $1,100,000.

Letter to Mr. Charles Tarrant, Janesville, Wis.

Dear Sir: Here's a story showing the results of having a good paint and a good painter.

E. F. McFarland of Normal, Ill., wishing to paint his house, bought 15
gallons of Devco lead-and-zinc paint,
and got his brother, a first class painter, to put it on.

They used about half the paint and returned the balance.

L. J. Jackson of Piper City, Ill., painted his farm house this year.
Bought 17 gallons of Devco lead-and-zinc, and hired Wm. Brown, painter, to put it on. Returned 4 gallons; good job. S. D. Calbertson & Sons, dealers.

Mrs. Lee of New Holland, Ill., hired James Hughes, painter, to paint her house; got 15 gallons of Devco lead-
and-zinc paint; used only nine.

Devco is economy.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVCO & CO.
New York and Chicago

P. S.—J. P. Baker sells our paint.

The Apollo Club
If you wish to join the club as an associate member, write a note to the chairman of the membership committee, Mrs. John G. Rexford, 154 Silclair street, enclosing check for $3 annual dues, and your season card will be ready for you at Library Hall next Monday night, when Helen Buckley, Chicago's most gifted soprano, will sing. You cannot afford to miss this superb vocalist. The grand concert November 12th will be at the Congregational church and open to the public. Five noted artists will give the program. The price of tickets to the public will probably be fixed at $1
each, but members of The Apollo Club will be admitted free upon presenting their season cards. Secretary Beers will be at Library Hall at 7:30 next Monday night to receive the annual dues of present members who have not yet paid, and issue their season cards.

PROVED INNOCENCE; VERDICT OF $2,600

Chicago Policeman Who Spent Boy-hood in Milton Collected Wages
for Time Under Discharge.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milton, Oct. 25.—The following item from the Chicago Record-Herald will be of interest to the friends of Mr.
Bullis, who was born in Milton and spent his boyhood here. "Policeman Walter Bullis was awarded a verdict of $2,600 against the city yesterday by a jury in Judge Chytrus' court as salary due him for the time he was under discharge from the police department. Policeman John J. Fitz-maurice was awarded a like amount a week ago. Both men were discharged in 1904, accused of levying tribute
on women. They were reinstated June 1, after they proved their innocence."

The G. A. R. campfire and supper at Good Templar hall is worthy of your patronage and ought to get it.
Supper from 5 to 7 followed at 8 by an address by Comrade J. F. Carle of Janesville. Recitations, music by the male quartet and drum corps are the other attractions. Be there early and you'll not regret it.

ill, but is better.

Our summer weather is with us yet
and the recent rains have been beneficial to fall pastures and the coal bins are still full.

OBITUARY.
David Nelson
The remains of the late David Nelson
arrived here from Greeley, Colo., yesterday afternoon at one o'clock
and were taken directly to the chapel
in Oak Hill cemetery, where the funeral was held at half-past two. Rev.
R. C. Denison was the officiating cler-gyman and some services were rendered by Mrs. C. F. Yates and Mrs.
Fannie Clark. Many floral offerings testified to the numerous friends the deceased possessed and the esteem in which he was held. Among the tributes was a beautiful spray of chryssanthemums from former fellow-workmen in the plow shop of the Janesville Machine company. The pallbearers were his brother, Peter Nelson;
his cousins, Fred J. Myhr and C. J.
Myhr, and a former employer, C. L.
Hilton. Interment was in Oak Hill.

To the Public

VARSITY TEAM NELD BY THE FRESHMEN

Coach Hutchings' Cry "Enough For Today!" Alone Prevented a Tie Score.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—Wisconsin varsity was saved from a tied score in a game with the freshmen yesterday afternoon, only by the shriek of Coach Hutchings chasing the men to the training quarters. The varsity scored twice on a 65-yard run by Zeisler and another touchdown by Zeisler and Freshman Cooper, picked up a fumble and run 45 yards for a touchdown. Later the freshman punted and recovered the ball on the varsity's one-yard line when the catcher was bungled. One play meant a touchdown, for it was getting dark, and Coach Hutchings saved the grace of the varsity by yelling: "Enough for today!" Line-up: Center, Whittaker;
guards, Geibach and Bleyer; tackles, Johnson and Dittman; ends, Frank and Rogers; quarter, Cunningham;
halfbacks, Clark and Zeisler; fullback, Zwolank.

Students who can present a certificate of registration at the box office will be admitted to intercollegiate games here for 50 cents. All others will be held up for 1.50.

A few days ago a gentleman advertised through these columns for an office girl and bookkeeper and after the little announcement had appeared in The Gazette twice he received ten replies. A number more have come since. This is merely a demonstration of the fact that these Want Ads or Classified Columns are read carefully. There are so many little worrisome things that can be settled and put out of the mind through the little aWnt Ad. Very often you find yourself wondering how to get word to the public about something, how to dispose of something, or how to secure something. If the value of these columns for just such purpose can be impressed upon you so that you connect The Gazette Want Ad immediately with the thought we know we will have accomplished a considerable good to you. Seven words count for a line in these columns and 3 lines go 3 times for 25c. The Semi-Weekly Gazette is published Wednesdays and Saturdays; 3 lines go 3 times for 25c. men of the stage, and who is regarded by many theatregoers as the funniest man behind the footlights, will appear at the Myers theatre Thursday, Nov. 1, with "The Earl and the Girl." The Messrs. Shubert have exercised great care in the selection of a company for this season's presentation. The principals are all well known favorites and the chorus is made up of particularly pretty show girls. The musical numbers are many and replete with catchy songs, and dainty dances. "The Earl and the Girl" has had a phenomenal success at the Casino, New York, and was spoken of by the New York Press as a hit of the most emphatic kind. The production is a stupendous one, requiring three special 60-ft. cars for its transportation.

"A Message from Mars," a comedy that has attracted unusual attention wherever it has been seen, is a play which, it is said, points a moral without the author apparently endeavoring to have done so. The main character is a selfish, egotistical young man, who is softened and turned to altruism by a messenger from the planet Mars who leads him through some amazing and for a self-satisfied man, some harrowing adventures, causing him to see and appreciate the condition of those less fortunate than himself. The play, which will be seen here at the Myers theatre, Monday, Oct. 29, is said to be splendidly built, and on a foundation of substantial plot, worked out by an unusually large number of characters. David Proctor, a young and prominent actor, is appearing as the star in this much discussed comedy.

"Popularity" Company Disbanded
Thomas W. Ross, last seen in Jansville in "Checkers," closed with "Popularity" at Wallace's theatre, New York, last Saturday, and Cohan & Harris disbanded the company, but it is said that later in the season the play will be again sent on tour with Ross at its head. For a George M. Cohan play to be withdrawn is an unusual event, this being the first time such an occurrence has transpired.

been productive of much that was profitable and interesting in the two years past and it is the aim to make the coming series as instructive and entertaining as any yet held. With the towns of Beloit, Turtle, La Prairie and Rock as its jurisdiction and with live questions up for consideration and discussion, the club bids fair to maintain its prestige as the most successful social organization in rural Rock county.

Critical studies of the various leading countries of the world will form the basis of work in the Afton literary society the coming winter. This much was determined at a preliminary business meeting held last week at the home of U. G. Waite. Officers for the remainder of the year 1906 were elected as follows: President, U. G. Waite; vice-president, Sarah Z. Drafiak; secretary, Ethel E. Soper. These officers, together with Messrs. David Thorne, O. D. Anisdel and Otto E. Uehling, comprise the executive committee, which will formulate the program for each meeting.

The Ladies Aid society will meet to sew for Mrs. Peter Drafiak at her home next Wednesday, Oct. 31, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. All members should plan to be present.

Disappointment reigned supreme at Afton last Monday over the non-arrival of Governor Davidson, who was scheduled to speak here at 3 p. m. Brinkman's hall had been arranged for the meeting, permission had been given the Afton State Graded school to close for the occasion and many had driven in from the country to see and hear his excellency. That an automobile is an unknown quantity when it comes to political campaigning is now firmly believed by all Afton people and when another candidate heads this way they want him to take a more reliable conveyance.

Carpenters have been at work the past week putting the interior finish on the dwelling recently erected by David Thorne and the house will soon be ready for occupancy.

OLD AGE

Depends Not Upon Years, But Upon Vital Force.

At the recent Convention of Physicians there was a good deal of discussion in regard to old age and the usefulness of persons over sixty years old. Some at fifty years call themselves old, and really appear so, while others at seventy years seem active, vigorous and young.

It was the opinion that it was not years, but the loss of vital force that makes a person old. Weakened digestion, thin blood and poor circulation soon start functional powers and vitality on the wane, and then the symptoms of old age quickly appear, as the system then has not the power to replace waste fast enough.

A member of the Smith Drug Co. says: "That old feeling may be ward off and overcome, and we wish every person in Jansville who feels old, whether they are 50 or 70 years old, would try our cod liver preparation, Vinol. We know that it has vital properties which repairs worn tissues, checks the natural decline and replaces weakness with strength. It is an ideal body builder for old folks."

This is because Vinol is a genuine cod liver medicine, containing all the medicinal curatives and strength-making elements of cod liver oil taken direct from fresh cod livers, with tonic iron added. We will return your money if it does not do exactly what we claim for it. Smith Drug Co.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Jansville, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

THE GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT

Assemblyman Pitney Norcross, president of the Rock County Good Roads Association, had a communication in the paper yesterday that was doubtless read with interest.

The plan which he suggests for building a sample road from Beloit to Edgerton by the way of Janesville is feasible and well worth trying.

One of the advantages of state organization which he failed to mention is the fact that road-building would be in charge and under the supervision of competent engineers. This would insure uniformity and the most economical use of the material at hand.

The counties of the state already organized are enthusiastic and when a sufficient number are in line there will be no trouble in effecting a state organization. This is the method pursued in other states and most favorable results have been secured.

The Gazette invites communications from anyone who is interested in the movement. The question should be fully discussed from all sides. If there are objections they should be brought out. That the county would be greatly benefited by better roads is generally conceded.

THE MAN WHO DID IT

The following editorial from the Madison Journal on "The Man Who Whipped La Follette and the Status of Reform in Wisconsin" is worth reproducing and reading as it shows up the situation correctly.

"Mr. Bryan's frank declaration in his gymnastic speech on Wednesday night that he had come here to whip the man who whipped La Follette suggests that either the eloquent Nebraska is not fully informed of what or who whipped La Follette and of the general political situation in this state, or that he has temerity largely in excess of discretion. Perhaps, however, he really thinks that Mr. La Follette's recent defeat in his own state means that the times are out of joint. We suspect that there are a goodly number among the admirers of our junior senator, at home and abroad, who have in the past accepted him upon his own certification as the very genius of reform, and a God-appointed leader, who now have misgivings about the future of reform in Wisconsin. To all these, including the doubtful Mr. Bryan, we tender our sincere regards, and our cheerful assurances that the cause of reform in Wisconsin has never so promising an outlook as now. The cause is in the hands of the man who whipped La Follette and a united republican party, and will be carried forward with enthusiasm and wisdom.

"We might go farther by way of giving assurances, and say that the humiliating defeat suffered by Senator La Follette in the primary election, and later in the platform convention, and the consequent discredit of him by his party, were distinctly helpful to the cause of reform in Wisconsin; and this is said without the slightest intent or desire to rob Mr. La Follette of an iota of the credit due to him for the conspicuous work he has done in this reform movement.

He did much, and while it would be over praise to say that without him the movement would not have gained the headway it now has, yet his energy and eloquence have been potent influences in its advancement. He was not the first nor the chief advocate of rate legislation and equal taxation. The man who whipped La Follette—Gov. James O. Davidson, and scores of other loyal republicans preceded him by years in the championing of these measures; nevertheless, when he entered the list for their promotion the measures made rapid progress.

"An understanding of what discredited Senator La Follette, and brought him defeat and chagrin, will make clear how in his recent undoing the cause of reform is greatly advanced. For some trivial personal reason he became offended at Gov. Davidson and determined to defeat him. His friends remonstrated with him, and pointed out that Davidson had preceded him in the field for the reforms he had advanced, and he had never faltered in their support, and that Davidson's defeat would be a blow to reform. But La Follette was obstinate, and in direct violation of the spirit of the primary election law he attempted to dictate a candidate for governor, bringing out a young and untutored man whose chief recommendation was that he was an idolatrous follower of La Follette. The overwhelming defeat which met this attempt to dictate clearly showed that the party could not be used for personal ends. Davidson defeated La Follette's candidate by a majority of 50,000, or a vote of more than two to one. Davidson carried 68 of the 71 counties of the state. Two weeks later, under the provisions of the new primary law, the successful candidates for state offices met to make a platform. Again La Follette was determined to humiliate Gov. Davidson, and gave out the word that the platform must incorporate a number of pledges which he had prepared, and that above all Davidson's candidate, Connor, for state chairman, must be defeated. This latter attempt at dictation resulted in the election of Connor by a vote of 71 to 48, and a defeat of every platform provision suggested by La Follette by a still larger vote. It was a most effective repudiation of bossism and the insidious attempt to gratify personal animosity by sacrificing the work of reform. The majorities against Mr. La Follette were so large as to leave no doubt as to the sentiment of the party.

"Whether it was solely his ill-will toward Gov. Davidson, or that he greatly over-estimated his influence, which led La Follette to make his abortive attempt at dictatorship, it is impossible to say with certainty, but whatever it was, he stands so completely discredited in his party and state, as a result, that he has been compelled to practically ask permission to speak in this fall's campaign. La Follette's best friends in Wisconsin would gladly have saved him from this humiliation. Those of them who had his welfare at heart have long felt, and frequently pointed out to him that no one can permanently establish himself in the confidence and respect of the public who devotes himself so closely to the tearing down of other men's reputations. But in this, as in other matters, the junior senator has been disinclined to be advised. As the Milwaukee Free Press in its issue of Oct. 21 wisely says: 'While reform is a good thing—the biggest and best thing on earth—reformers sometimes get too exalted notions of their importance, and an idea that they are divinely called, and that no reform is genuine that does not have their names blown in the bottle, and that reform by any other means than themselves is little better than ordinary corruption.'

"In his card to the public the morning following the primary election, Gov. Davidson made a significant declaration which Senator La Follette and his friend Mr. Bryan would do well to ponder. He said that during the weeks of campaigning through the state this year, in which he traversed nearly every county, he did not meet a single republican who was not fully in accord with the reforms—rate regulation, tax equalization, civil service and primary election—which he was advocating. The significance of this reaches back as well as forward. It means that the republicans who for a number of years opposed La Follette, were not against the reforms which he proposed to champion, but rather to his unfair and childish dictatorial methods during his brief occupancy of the seat of power in his party. Mr. La Follette was, during those years quite successful, especially outside of the state, in making it appear that opposition to him meant antagonism to reform. That was as untrue then as it is now when a united party, barring Senator La Follette and a few malcontents, under a fair leader like Gov. Davidson, is carrying forward the work of reform.

"Yes! if Mr. Bryan has come to Wisconsin to whip the man who whipped La Follette he must defeat a united and enthusiastic republican party and block a reform movement that has gained greatly in momentum during the past few months. Mr. Bryan cannot La Folletteize Wisconsin more than Mr. La Follette can Bryanize the nation. Without either the cause of reform is safe in both the state and the nation."

Mr. Connor, as chairman of the state central committee, should say to any man who volunteers his services: "You must speak for the party and the entire ticket or we have no use for you," and Governor Davidson should back him up on the proposition. The people have had enough of bossism and La Folletteism, and no man understands this better than the chief executive. Davidson and Connor are on the same ticket; both are entitled to support.

The executive committee of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress has called a meeting for December 6 and 7, at the Arlington hotel, Washington, to which all interested parties are invited. The object is to stimulate legislation for the improvement of waterways, which are the great natural highways of the nation. The congress is entitled to hearty support and cooperation.

The possibilities of what may be done with denatured alcohol will be a surprise to everybody. It can be manufactured so easily and from such a variety of products and used so successfully for heat and power that it is liable to revolutionize things all along the line. It is the coming fuel for light engines and will be found to combine economy with safety.

Everyone admits that the new hospital project is a good thing for the city. This is good encouragement, so far as it goes, but money is the only effective talk. Greet the committee with a check and a "God bless you" and the enterprise will be carried through successfully.

Mr. Hearst claims that his ambition is to restore the democratic party. If there is anything Jeffersonian about his methods it ought to be labeled, for it don't appear on the surface.

How can a man who believes in the primary law run as an independent candidate and how can the father of the law encourage such a candidate? Echo answers "reform."

How Newspaper Advertising Built Up a Lighting Business.

One of the most remarkable examples of good newspaper advertising is that being done by the Dayton Lighting company. For twenty years this company conducted its business on the old-fashioned plan, without any newspaper advertising. At the end of that time they had 600 contracts, using 18,000 sixteen-candle power lamps. Under practically a new management this company, in August last, began an intelligent, persistent and liberal advertising campaign—one of the best ever used anywhere—using larger space each day in the newspapers. In a short month of twenty-four days they added 32 new contracts, using 9,975 sixteen-candle power lamps. In other words, in twenty-four days, with a newspaper advertising campaign, they added more than one-half the volume of business that it had taken twenty years to build up without newspaper advertising, or, to be exact, the increase was more than 55 per cent.

Mr. Business Man, these are facts. What are you doing with newspaper advertising to build up your own business?—Dayton (O.) Journal.

PRESS COMMENT.

State at Large Apologizes.
La Crosse Chronicle: The Wisconsin Medical board has just excluded another good man from the state of Wisconsin because he has been known to advertise in newspapers. The state at large, however, offers its apology to the gentleman, with the assurance that the grant of temporary power to the board in question was wholly unintentional.

Only Disorganizers

Eau Claire Leader: That Bryan and La Follette intend forming a new party is the opinion of many of the metropolitan dailies. The chances are that neither gentleman contemplates such a course, and another sure thing is that if they do, they won't be afraid to advertise the fact. Another thing may be said of the modern Damon and Pythias, they would rather smash old parties than build new ones.

Condemned by Sir Thomas.
Menasha Record: Sir Thomas Linton after witnessing his first game of football says it is brutal. Sir Thomas is a noted sportsman, and when such a noted sportsman says it is time for people to sit up and think, the game he witnessed was played at our own Ripon college which is supposed to be a mild-mannered institution. What would he think if he should witness a genuine slugging match such as are given by some of our great educational institutions and called a gentleman's game.

Indians Who Vote.
Racine Journal: It is not generally known that the Indians of the so-called five tribes of Indian territory are voters. An item bearing upon the new state says: The Indians of Indian Territory will nearly all vote. The five civilized tribes are not blanket Indians. There are still some restrictions to prevent the alienation of homesteads, but within the next five years most of the land of Indian Territory will be held in private ownership, which will hasten development enormously and will likewise bring the land under taxation.

Plenty of Balm in Gilead.
Geo. Grassie in the Evening Wisconsin: The petty wrangling between the rival papers of La Crosse and the rival papers of Fond du Lac are as disgusting as the advertising bickering between the organs of this city. Cut it out, men. Get together on something. There is plenty of balm in Gilead yet and plenty of work to be done.

Poser For Spelling Reformers.
Appleton Post: A correspondent of The New York Sun submits the following short German words to the spelling reformer for their consideration: Versicherungsgesellschaften, Kostenfestsetzungsverfahren, Haftpflichtversicherungsverträge, Schadenversicherung, Unfallversicherungsgesellschaften, Schadenersatzsprüche, Belastungsmomente.

Russian Jackassation.
Superior Telegram: The Russian ambassador to Japan recently ordered the proprietor to turn out of the hotel dining room three American naval sailors, alleging that they had no right to eat in the same room with himself. He was obeyed, and the three American women in the room, if the ships of the country represented by this diplomatic person had been manned by such men as he ordered excluded from the hotel, they would not have received their well-merited thrashing from the Japanese. If the Russian government is absolutism tempered with assassination, the Russian nobility is arrogance tempered with jackassation. Born amid mediaeval environments, nurtured in superstition and baptized in the sweat, tears and blood of the poor, the Muscovite patrician is a drag on evolution, whose only spur with his class is revolution.

ROSE MELVILLE AS QUEER COUNTRY GIRL

"Sis Hopkins" Pleased a Fair Sized Audience That Should Have Been Larger at the Myers.

Rose Melville brought tears to the eyes and laughter to the lips at will at the Myers theatre last evening. While her characterization in the first act often seemed too grotesque to be true, the other two stages of the queer little country girl's development were interpreted with an art so exquisite as to move even the most hardened theatregoers. Lee Daniel was too obvious a villain but Frank Hartwell as "Pa Hopkins" did a splendid bit of work in the last act. J. T. Ray was a mirth-provoking undertaker. The audience was not as large as it should have been.

MISS ANNA DIXON AND SAM POWERS

Were the Principals in a Pretty Autumn Wedding at the Dixon Home Last Evening.

Miss Anna Dixon, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Dixon, who reside at 105 South Jackson street, and Sam Powers, son of A. C. Powers, whose home is on the Interurban line near Beloit, were wedded at the home of the bride's parents at six o'clock last evening. Rev. R. C. Denison officiating. The residence was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, a color scheme of green and white being effectively carried out in the dining-room. The bride was attired in a gown of blue silk and was attended by Miss Grace Wilbur of this city, who wore pink silk. Bert Mark of Beloit was best man. Master Connors played the wedding march and Fred Dixon, the eldest son, gave the bride away. After the recesses the bride followed the conclusion of the ceremony, a delicious wedding supper was served for fifty guests. The groom is employed on the Interurban railroad and the bride was formerly in the office of the Rock County Telephone Co. They departed at 9:30 for a brief wedding journey. Upon returning they will make their home on the Powers farm.

MORTUARY MENTION.

Mrs. Ella Finane.
The funeral of the late Mrs. Ella Finane will be held tomorrow morning at 9:15 o'clock from St. Mary's church.

Malcolm Clark.
Malcolm Clark, the fifteen-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Clark, died at the home of his parents in Evansville at ten o'clock last night. Mr. Clark is a former resident of Janesville, a son of Mr. James Clark and brother of Miss Mary Clark. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m.

James Maxwell.
The remains of the late James Maxwell were brought here from Ableman, Wis., where he died of heart failure, and funeral services were held at nine o'clock this morning from St. Patrick's church. The pallbearers were Lawrence Cronin, James Sennett, J. O'Rourke, John Madden, Thomas Kelly and Phil Sheridan. Interment was in Mount Olivet.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Will Fight Cases: The Rock County Sugar company will fight the five suits for recovery of wages instituted by laborers who were brought here from Chicago. All complainants have found work now and no criminal action for bringing paupers into the city and leaving them without support will be commenced against the defendant.

Mrs. Welch Surprised: Mrs. B. J. Welch was surprised yesterday afternoon by thirty members of the local W. R. C. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Welch's birthday and she was presented with a spoon as was Mrs. Fisher who had a birthday last month. The afternoon was devoted to games, the prize going to Mrs. Ellen Gifford. A delicious dinner was served at six o'clock.

Suits Adjudged: Those civil suits for recovery of money due were adjourned until Monday in Justice Reeder's court this morning: C. H. Burgess versus Austin Arner, and James J. Daltgen versus Lewis Plantz. Stoves in Street: Cars: Superintendent Murphy of the Janesville street railway company has ordered that stoves be placed in the cars and other arrangements for winter be made.

Both Parties Guilty: Rev. E. L. Eaton of Madison, former pastor of the Janesville Methodist church, and candidate for governor on the prohibition ticket, said in a speech at Oshkosh that a vote for either the republican or democratic party was a vote for the maintenance of the saloons.

Henry Lawson Escapes: Henry M. Lawson, the Monroe hotel clerk who was arrested by Marshal Appleby and sentenced to sixty days confinement in the Green county jail at Monroe for embezzling funds, disappeared yesterday afternoon while working about the bastille, having been a model prisoner and given the liberty to work out of doors.

Rev. R. M. Vaughan Speaker: Rev. R. M. Vaughan of the Baptist church will be one of the principal speakers before the Wisconsin Federation of Christian Workers in annual convention at Beaver Dam next week.

Officer Fanning: The council completes the probe of charges of brutal treatment of a prisoner. Officer Patrick Fanning has been temporarily suspended and is visiting out of the city. Bicycle Picked Up: A red framed bicycle has been picked up by the police and is awaiting an owner at the police station in the city hall.

JANESVILLE BOYS WERE ARRESTED

GEORGE SHERIDAN AND O'BRIEN CHARGED WITH ROBBERY MADISON STORES.

ONE CONFESSION REPORTED

First-named Will be Given Sentence, Said Chief Baker Over Phone This Morning.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—(Special to Gazette.)—George Sheridan of Janesville, wanted there for highway robbery, pleaded guilty here today to burglarizing the saloon in which he was caught last night.

Three stores in Madison, were entered by burglars last night and two boys, claiming Janesville as their home and one giving the name of a well known young man here, were arrested as suspects. The first, a youth of twenty or twenty-one, says his name is George Sheridan and the description furnished Marshal Appleby by Chief Baker over the phone this morning tallies with the description of one George Sheridan who makes Janesville his headquarters at times. Chief Baker says Sheridan confessed to his part in the crime and that he will be taken to municipal court for sentence tomorrow morning. The other gives his name as O'Brien but the police know of no one by that name who answers the description of the Madison suspect.

Impersonated Barkeeper.

The places that were thought to have been entered by the local lads were the saloon of C. A. Mayer, the Fair Store, and the Marble Front restaurant of Matthew R. Cronin. At the first named place the two burglars were discovered at 12:20 o'clock by Officer Kinney. They were seen back of the bar tampering with the cash register but as one wore a white duck coat the patrolman thought the bar tender and proprietor were closing up the place for the night, the doors having been locked at midnight in compliance with the city ordinance. Kinney watched and then rattled the front door. The two men inside immediately fled out the rear and down an alley and although the officer gave chase and fired after them several times they made good their escape. Not more than $5 was secured and $7 remained in the register.

Gold Bracelets Taken.

At the Fair store a rear window was broken in with a hammer that was left on the window sill and by removal of an iron bar an entrance was effected. The proprietor of the place was called and an examination showed that a dozen gold bracelets and some small change had been secured. Whether the restaurant was entered or not is a question. The rear door was found open by a night watchman but the proprietor remembered that he had forgotten to lock it and thought he might have left it ajar. Nothing was taken there nor was there any evidence that robbers had visited the place.

White Coat Clue.

The members of the Madison police force were ordered to watch for all strangers, especially one with a white coat, in connection with the robbery at the Northwestern depot last night.

Northwestern depot last night a watch of all who seemed to be waiting for out-going trains. One, from under whose sack the white edge of some garment was peeping, was apprehended and taken to the police station. The white was of a beer-serving garment and according to circumstantial evidence was the same one that had saved the burglar earlier in the morning when the saloon register was being rifled. The suspect was reticent for a time and would give no further information than that he came from Janesville. This morning he furnished the police with more information regarding his identity and a confession is said to have followed.

STEVE KINNEY NEARING CHAMPIONSHIP CASS BY DEFEAT OF BENNIE YANGER

Boxer Who Was in Exhibition Before Janesville Eagles Put Damper on Italian.

Steve Kinney, who appeared before the Janesville Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles in a boxing exhibition on the night of election day last spring, is rapidly striding upward in pugilistic circles. Wednesday night he defeated Bennie Yanger at Davenport, Iowa, in securing the decision in a fifteen-round "go." Yanger waited to land a knockout on Kinney, but waited to the fact that his opponent was too clever when it was too late and the fight was a draw. Kinney won the fight. Yanger was to meet Kid Herman, who aspires to try for the championship against Gans, but the defeat cancels the bout. Kinney will fight Jimmy Briggs of Boston in Milwaukee November 2.

UNDER 300 POUND BARREL OF PAINT

J. C. Karberg Sustained Bad Gash in Leg and Serious Bruise of Back Yesterday Afternoon.

In endeavoring to put a barrel of paint in the cellar of his saloon building on North Franklin street yesterday afternoon, J. C. Karberg was caught under the barrel and sustained serious injuries. He with two assistants attempted to roll the barrel down a flight of stairs, but after it had passed one step slipped from the hands of the men above and rolled onto him. His left leg was cut to the bone, the gash extending for several inches, and his back was severely bruised, the barrel falling but passing completely over him. Dr. E. F. Woods was summoned and dressed the wounds.

S.S.S. A CERTAIN SAFE TREATMENT

Even if mercury and potash could cure Contagious Blood Poison the condition in which these strong minerals leave the system would make the cure worse than the disease. But they cannot cure the vile disorder; they can only cover up the symptoms for awhile to break out with renewed violence when the treatment is left off. When the virus of Contagious Blood Poison enters the blood, the entire circulation becomes poisoned, and the loathsome symptoms begin to appear. The mouth and throat ulcerate, hair and eyebrows come out, glands of the neck and groin swell, copper-colored spots appear on the body, and in severe cases sores and ulcers break out, and even the bones become diseased. S. S. S. is the only certain, safe cure for Contagious Blood Poison; thousands have been cured by it after failing with the mineral treatment, Hot Springs, etc. It is the only remedy that is able to get at the root of the disease and force out the poison so that no signs are ever seen again. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, being made of roots, herbs and barks, and never leaves any bad effects, but instead, tones up the stomach and digestion and builds up every part of the system while removing the poison from the blood. Book with instructions for self treatment and medical advice free.

INDIANS REFUSE TO YIELD

MORE TROOPS SENT TO ASSIST MAJ. GRIERSON.

Should the Utes Still Hold Out There Will Be No Alternative but to Open Fire on Them.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 26.—The band of Ute Indians who are to be rounded up by the United States cavalry and escorted back to their reservation are now on Little Powder river, about 40 miles north of Gillette, Wyo., and are temporarily camped there on account of the storm.

Maj. C. H. Grierson, in command of troop M., Tenth cavalry, which was sent to escort the Indians back to their reservation, decided, after they refused to surrender, to await reinforcements before rounding them up, and orders have been issued by Maj. Gen. A. W. Greely for the dispatching of two more troops of the Tenth cavalry from Fort Robinson, Neb.

As soon as these troops arrive at the military camp north of Gillette the entire battalion will move forward and surround the Indian camp on Powder river and demand the surrender of the Utes, who are 300 strong. If they still refuse to accompany the troops, an attack will be the only alternative.

Gov. Brooks received a report from Gillette, Wyo., near which is located the camp of the Ute Indians, saying that all there is quiet and the Indians are inoffensive. No credence is given to the report that the Indians have engaged a number of cowboys in battle. A similar report, it is said, was circulated a few days ago.

The Lonely Life

The Tragic Confession of a Spinster, Who Realizes That No Fame or Wealth Can Compensate for the Solitude of Her Life.

In this article the author, whose name for obvious reasons we are not at liberty to disclose, drops for once the mask which she in common with other "Bachelor Maids," is accustomed to turn to the world.

Though no longer young, she frankly says she longs for the companionship of a husband and the care of children. The circumstances which have kept from her the happiness which these blessings bring are stated with the same directness which characterizes the whole article. It is the life-story of a "successful" woman, a drama of real life in which the last act is a tragedy.

DO NOT WORRY LONGER WITH OLD-FASHIONED METHODS OF ILLUMINATING WHEN YOU CAN GET

ELECTRIC LIGHT

FOR PRACTICALLY THE SAME COST, IN ADDITION TO ITS COMFORTS AND SAFETY.

Do your plants wither up and die?
Do your rooms become filled with foul air?
Do your gas mantles and shades break?
Do your kerosene lamps and chimneys break?
Do your ceilings, walls and lace curtains become discolored and blackened from the soot thrown off by gas burners and kerosene lamps, necessitating constant renewing?

HAVE YOU EVER FIGURED

what these troubles cost you? If not, do so and you will be surprised to learn that they amount to considerable.

This expense can be saved by using

WOMEN'S NEGLECT

Health Thus Lost Is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again: "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

Miss Kate McDonald

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, or other female weakness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heed is taken of them a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Kate McDonald of Woodbridge, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Restored health has meant so much to me that I cannot help from telling about it for the sake of other suffering women.

For a long time I suffered untold agony with a female trouble and irregularities, which made me a physical wreck, and no one thought I would recover, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me, and made me well and strong, and I feel it my duty to tell other suffering women what a splendid medicine it is.

For twenty-five years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Her advice is free and always helpful. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Danderine

GREW THIS HAIR

And we can PROVE IT
Testimonial No. 570.

MRS. ANNIE E. SHEEHAN,
Weir City, Kansas.

You must remember that falling hair and dandruff are signs of decay, or a diseased condition of the scalp, and you must not delay treatment. To do so simply means more loss of hair, and a greater impoverished scalp, and finally baldness. Danderine works wonders in all such cases. It will quickly regenerate the cutaneous tissue, and make your hair grow more beautiful than it ever was. NOW! Small drugists, three sizes.

25c., 50c. and $1.00 per bottle.

If he could not report where Mr. Mitchell had gone, at least he might discover at what time he returned to his hotel, and possibly Mr. Barnes might receive some valuable hint by the lapse of time. With this idea Wilson returned to the Fifth Avenue hotel and waited patiently. He telephoned to headquarters, only to hear that Mr. Barnes had gone back to Boston to bring Pettigrew to New York. Seven o'clock arrived, and yet his vigil was unrewarded. It suddenly occurred to him that, as he had seen Mr. Mitchell purchase tickets for the Casino, that might be a good place to watch, though of course there was no certainty that they were for that night. Upon this meager hope he hastened up town and stationed himself where he could keep an eye on all who entered. At 10 minutes past 8 he was about concluding that his task was useless, when a cab stopped, and to his intense satisfaction, he saw Mr. Mitchell alight and then hand out a handsomely dressed woman. Wilson had prepared himself for this possibility by purchasing a ticket of admission, so that he followed the couple into the theater, determined not to lose sight of his man again.

The opera over, he found it easy to shadow the two, as the woman declined the proffered cab, perchance because the exhilarating though cold night air made a walk home inviting. He was, however, somewhat amazed at last to see them enter the very apartment house on Thirtieth street to which he had traced Ross Mitchell in the morning. His mind was at once set at ease, for since both of his birds had flown to the same dovecot it seemed plain that they were connected. Evidently it was to this house that Mr. Mitchell had gone after eluding him in the morning. At least so argued the astute detective.

Wilson had waited opposite the building perhaps an hour, lured into abstraction of thought by the silence of the neighborhood, when he was startled by hearing a piercing shriek, loud and long continued, which then died away, and all was still again. Whether it came from the apartment house or one of the private dwellings next to it he was in doubt. That it was a woman's cry he felt sure. Was it a cry of pain or the shriek of nightmare? He could not tell. That solitary, awful cry, disturbing the deathlike stillness, seemed uncanny. It made him shiver and draw his cloak closer about him. If it had only been repeated, after he was on the alert, he would have felt better satisfied, but though he listened intently he heard nothing. Ten minutes later another thing occurred which attracted his attention. A light in a window on the fifth floor was extinguished. There was certainly nothing suspicious about this, for lights are usually put out when one

As he stood by the glass doors cogitating he chanced to look down. Instantly his eye was attracted by that which made him shiver, as accustomed as he was to strange sights. It was a tiny red stream, which had managed to pass under the door and had then run along the edge of the carpet for the space of a few inches. Instantly he stopped, dipped his finger into it and then ejaculated under his breath:

three times, then tore it carefully into tiny pieces, doing it so accurately that they were all nearly of the same size and shape. Any one who should attempt to piece together a note which Mr. Barnes had thus destroyed would have a task. Standing by the window, he tossed them high in the air and saw them scattered by the wind.

At half past 8 o'clock he stood before the apartment house, in East Thirtieth street. The janitor was sweeping from the pavement a light snow which had fallen in the early hours of the morning.

Mr. Barnes, without speaking to the man, walked into the vestibule and scanned the names over the letter boxes. None of them contained the one which he sought, but there was no card in No. 5. Recalling that in Wilson's report a light had disappeared from a window on the fifth floor, he knew that it could not be unoccupied. To get in he resorted to a trick often practiced by sneak thieves. He raised the bell of No. 1, and when the door silently swung open he walked in, apologizing to the servant on the first landing for having "rung the wrong bell," and proceeded up to the fifth floor. Ever he rung the bell of the private hall belonging to that special apartment. He could have rung the lower bell of this apartment at the outset, but he wished to make it impossible for any one to leave after his signal announced visitors. He stood several minutes and heard no sound from within.

A second pull at the bell produced no better results. Taking a firm hold of the doorknob, he slowly unrolled it, making not the slightest noise. To his surprise, the door yielded when he pressed, and in a moment he had passed in and closed it behind him. His first idea was that, after all, he had entered an empty apartment, but a glance into the room at the farther end of the hall showed him that it was a furnished parlor. He hesitated a moment, then walked stealthily toward that room, and, looking in, saw no one. He tiptoed back to the hall door, turned the key, took it from the lock and dropped it into his pocket. Again he pressed forward, to the parlor, this time entering it. It was elegantly and tastefully furnished. The windows opened on the street. Between them stood a cabinet writing desk, open, as though recently used. "Beside it was an enamel piano lamp, possibly the same which had furnished the light which Wilson had suddenly missed several hours before. Opposite the windows a pair of folding glass doors communicated with an apartment beyond. These were closed. Peeping through a part of the pattern cut in the glass, Mr. Barnes could just distinguish the form of a woman in bed, her long hair hanging down from the pillow. This sight made him uncertain as to the next move.

This was possibly Mrs. Rose Mitchell, as she had announced herself. She was asleep, and he had entered her apartment without any warrant for doing so. True, he looked upon her with some suspicion, but the most innocent frequently suffer in this way, and without better reason than he had he knew that he could not account legally for what he was doing.

As he stood by the glass doors cogitating he chanced to look down. Instantly his eye was attracted by that which made him shiver, as accustomed as he was to strange sights. It was a tiny red stream, which had managed to pass under the door and had then run along the edge of the carpet for the space of a few inches. Instantly he stopped, dipped his finger into it and then ejaculated under his breath:

Good-Natured Clothing

How it does pay to be good-natured! There isn't anything that will so help a man to be contented and good-natured as good clothes—clothes he knows to be so stylish that they make him look his best, clothes so properly cut and generously made that he feels his best.

CLOTHCRAFT is that sort—it is right, then, to call it good-natured clothing.

Every CLOTHCRAFT garment is a true exponent of style; every one is cut to fit the form without cramping or hindering.

When you come in you're going to find in every CLOTHCRAFT overcoat the snug collar, the smooth-setting lapels, the concave shoulder, characteristic of this superlative line of men's coats.

And when we say only all-wool fabrics are used in CLOTHCRAFT we mean it. You'll find satisfaction at once—and it will last.

Yet-Clothcraft prices are low prices.

You really ought to see the Clothcraft Style Book. It's free.
